To Whom It May Concern,

In December 2022, BioFi agreed with Defi Sentry to conduct an intelligent contract review of their BioFi Staking Solidity Contract.

The scope of the engagement included a solidity file that contained functionality for staking BioFi products. The assessment of the entire code presented within the solidity file was related to the project. The products agreed upon to be assessed included a manual audit, a full in-depth analysis of the smart contract code using automation via Solidity, and a final summary report with all findings reported.

The results of the findings were very streamlined as BioFi cooperated with the issues found on hand and efficiently completed any changes needed. All issues found during the automated analysis were reviewed, and any potential vulnerabilities were identified using human review and automated verification. It should be noted that the BioFi Staking Contract was not created with any mal-intent as there were no issues, flaws, or discrepancies found within the smart contract code.

Defi Sentry does not offer any opinion on the security of the entire project as a whole. This audit and review process was conducted primarily for the purpose of the Staking Contract of BioFi. However, the thoroughness and attention to detail demonstrated by BioFi in this engagement should be noticed.
